CODE OF CONDUCT

According to the South African Schools Act 84 of 1996, a school must have a Code of Conduct. All learners are bound by this Code of Conduct. Learners and parents are expected to sign a statement of commitment to this Code of Conduct (Annexure A)

Aim

The aim of a code of conduct is:

- ❖ to create a well-organised school
- ❖ to promote self-discipline
- ❖ to create a culture of teaching and learning
- ❖ to ensure learners take responsibility for their own actions.
- ❖ to eliminate disruptive and offensive behaviour
- ❖ to support the objectives of the school's vision and mission statements

Preamble to the Code of Conduct

In 1883, Holy Cross Sisters, dedicated to God and seeking no gain for themselves, came to Southern Africa to bring the Good News of the Kingdom of God through education to those most in need. The Holy Cross Sisters see the work of education as a continuation of Christ's mission, as one with the mission of the Church, founded on Gospel values, to promote life in the midst of limits, for the upliftment of the whole child and therefore, for the building of the Kingdom of God, contributing to the forming of a just society.

Inspired by this vision, Holy Cross Convent School in Brooklyn:

- ❖ gives priority to education in a living faith whereby learners grow to appreciate the life and mission of Jesus Christ.
- ❖ has a special concern for the poor and underprivileged.
- ❖ promotes the harmonious growth of the whole child – intellectually, physically, emotionally, and spiritually.
- ❖ highlights the relevance of faith in the world.
- ❖ creates and upholds a teaching and learning environment.
- ❖ endeavours to enable each child to develop fully, to appreciate and use to the maximum their God-given talents.
- ❖ stresses the importance of cultivating the virtues of truth, honesty, love, faith, obedience, and respect.
